Once upon a time in the Zodiac galaxy a girl was born,
who would one day become the hero of her country.

As the girl grew up, her grandmother, who was the Queen of her country became more and more strict

HELEN AAAAA
Come In

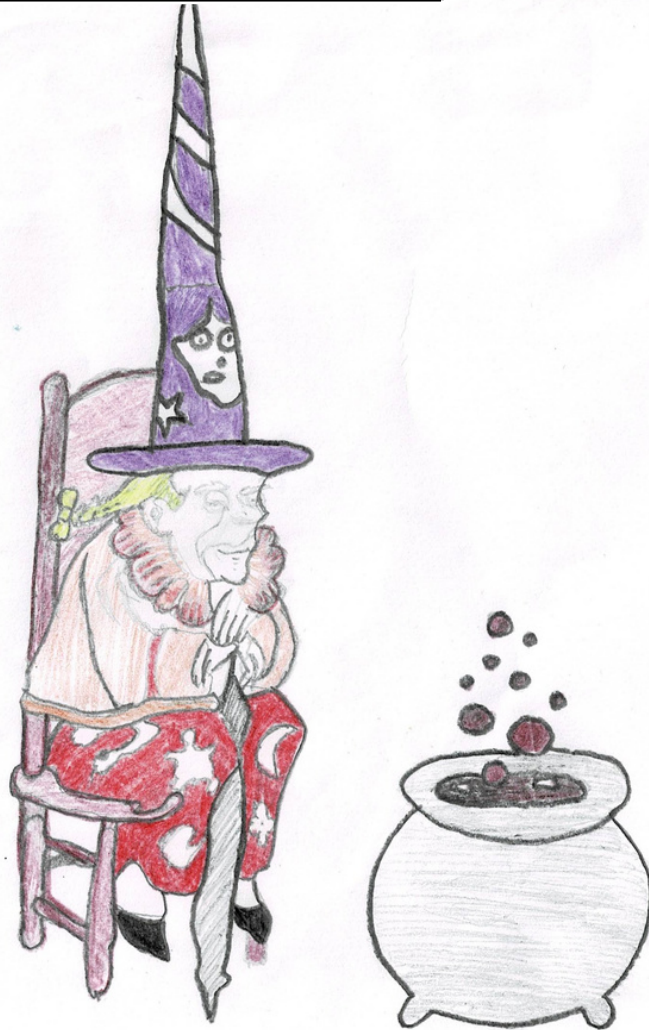

We are at Helena's room. Her grandma is yelling at her for her future.

You grew enough. Don't forget that you are the second special person of this galaxy. You have to be more serious about your future because you will take my place.

To convince her to get serious about her future, Queen had a wizard to make an elixir that would give her powers, which she will use in a war!

The grandmother forced her to drink the elixir, which caused her to pass out.

If you drink this you can be the person that you want. You can help disgusting peoples but if you drink know that you will regret me!

After two months, Helena woke up and realized something...

I can speak and understand animals!

Helena finally went to the war her grandmother sent her, but...

Suddenly, the door opens and Helena comes in.

This is your only choice Helena.

I will not do this anymore. Enough! You can not make me as same as you. I will go on my way not yours

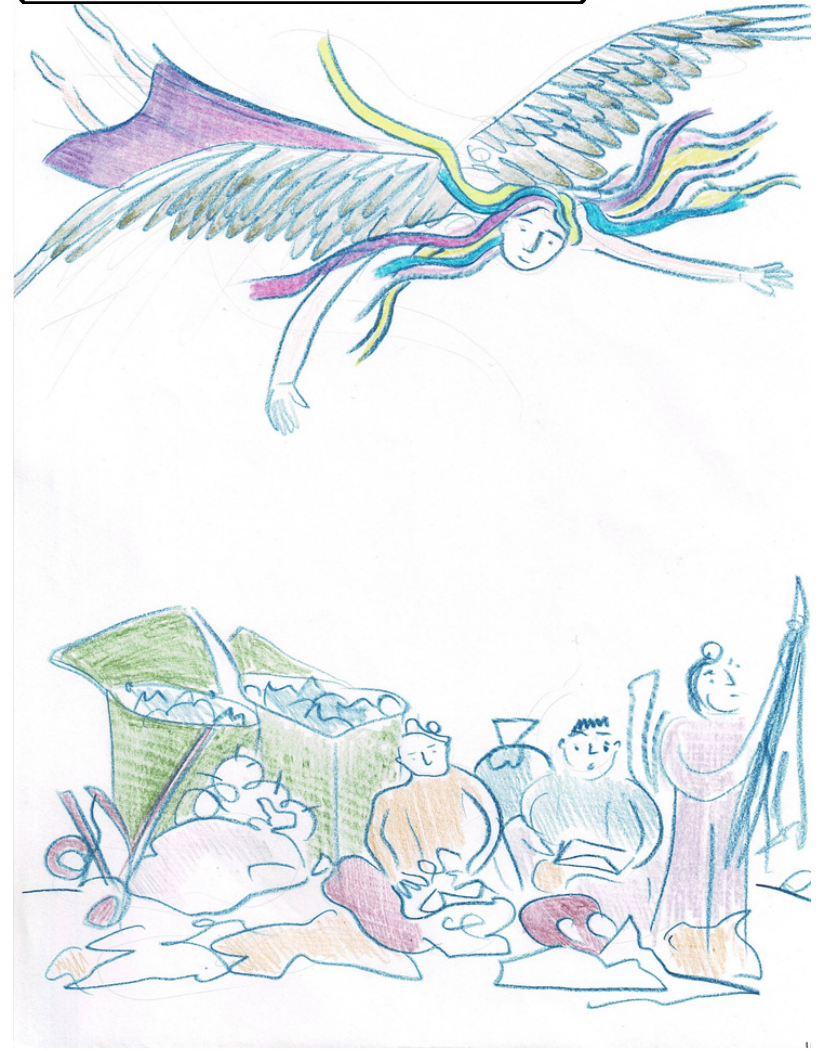

Eventually, Helena kicked out her grandma and took over the galaxy.

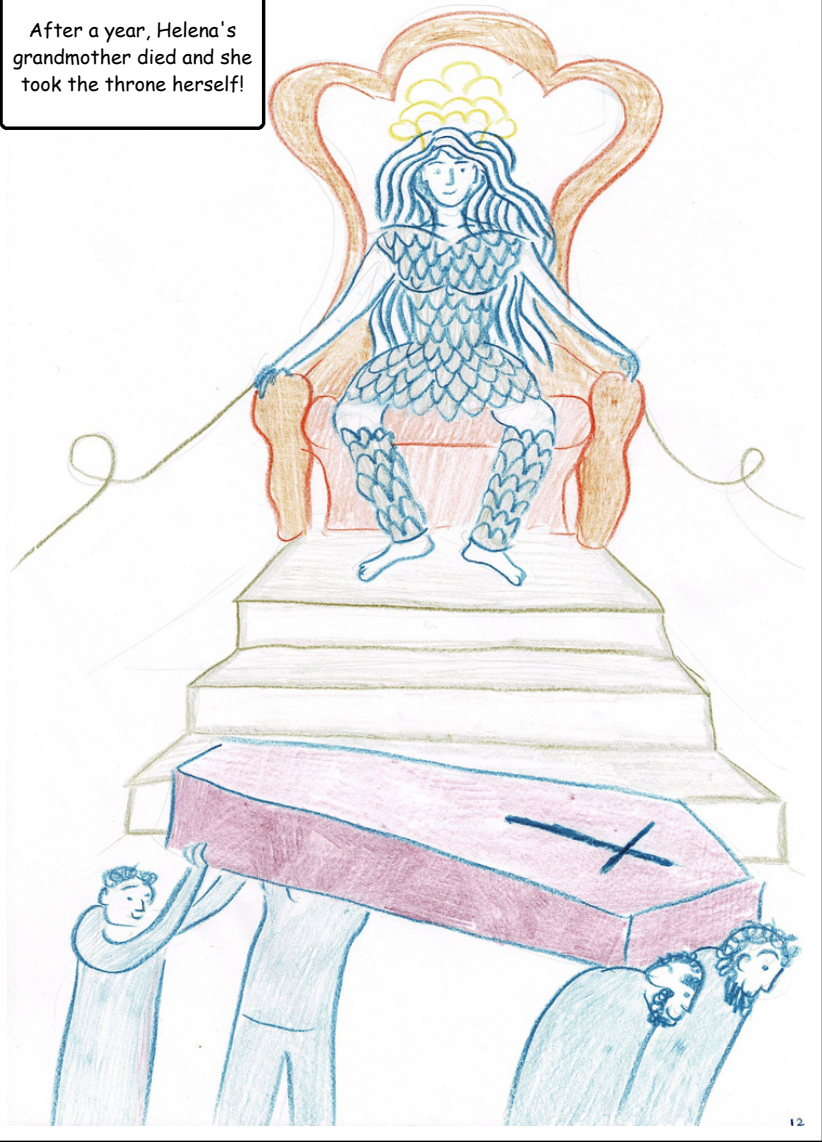

So, she began to help people of Earth by writing letters which the birds placed in the trash.

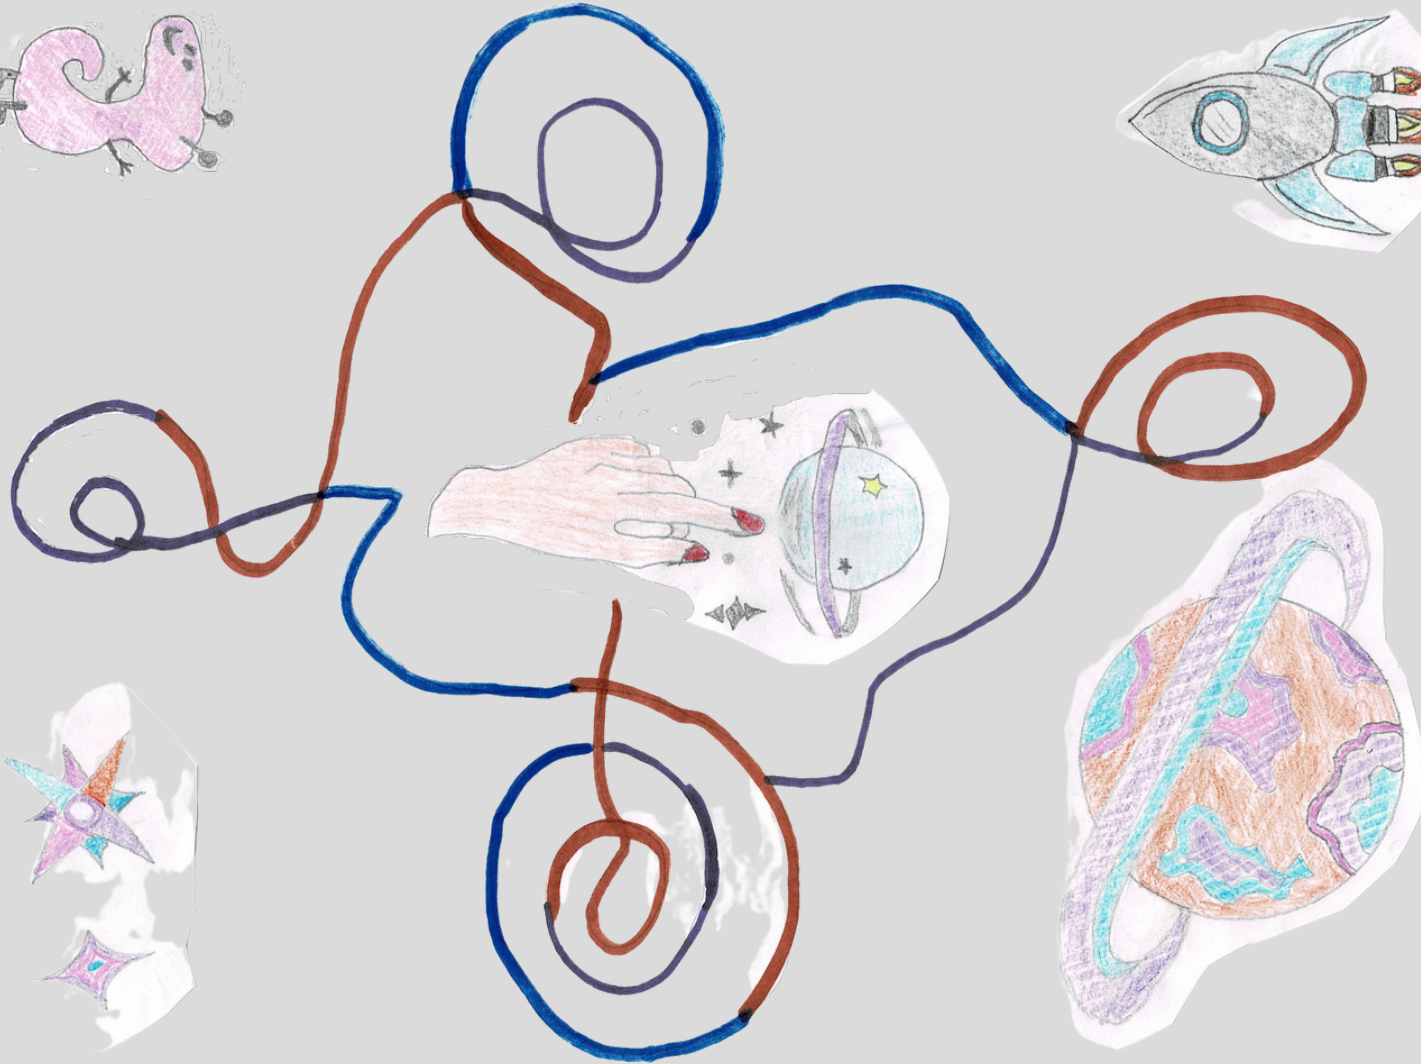

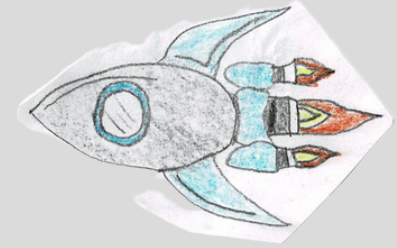

Whenever a person catches a letter, Helena comes and saves them with her hair.

After a year, Helena's grandmother died and she took the throne herself!
